AGAIN THE WORLD wakes, troubled, by news rather depressing.
New York radicals, "Reds," organized demonstrations, not very effective. One "Red" boy hit a policeman.
You cannot change the social order by hitting.
Brazil sends news of regular troops deserting and big American corporations' representatives in South America forward information less reassuring.
Brazilian authorities buy fighting planes from France, which has plenty. Rebels assert that many companies and regiments have joined the revolt.
Providence helps those that help themselves. California artichokes growers know it. Instead of fighting each other with price cuts, or complaining without action, these men combine in a fund to advertise their product.
That's the modern way of improving conditions. First produce what people want, then let the people know that you have it, by advertising.
Artichokes are rich in most important vitamins. The leaves, eaten one at a time with an excellent sauce, Zinfandel, or Hollandaise vinaigrette, teach children to eat slowly.
The substantial artichoke foundation provided in nourishment from the "vouchage" that men need.

Mr. Sidney Franklin, born in Brooklyn, and perhaps postmaster of the world, has been 2000 years ago on the island of Crete, west to Spain, became a bull fighter. Now he goes into vaudeville, rather than the bull ring and says bull fighting is absolutely a "fair, honest, pure" sport. "NO WAY," AS REBELS FOUND TO BRIBE THE BULL," in that respect, bull fighting is unlike prize fighting.

On January 1, John D. Rockefeller, Jr. will begin construction of his great civic center in the heart of New York.
A good business man, he probably has some business in the property, for which he has been paying a good deal of money. Columbia College at the rate of $3,000,000 a year.
The younger Mr. Rockefeller, devoting time and energy to building to stimulate useful restoration of ancient, priceless buildings, and to construction of a great center in New York, reminds you of the Medici family, whose founder strongly resembles John D. Rockefeller, Jr.

The older Medici made money, organized medicine.
The younger generation spent the money employing Michelangelo, Raphael and others.
Mussolini greets and thanks the name of the name of Virgil, which emphasizes the age between the youthful country and Mussolini's.
The direct descendants of Virgil's race in Rome, Mantua and elsewhere are the relatives of the TWO THOUSAND anniversary of his birth.
A powerful race is that of Italy, and Mussolini is as strong that execution as any of the Cæsars.

Wagner, S. D., wants an air mail service. President Hoover and Postmaster Brown should provide it, if possible.
Energetic Wagner citizens go about it the right way, establishing a 40-acre airport, well marked, with good hangars, floodlights, etc.
The Nebraska Bankers' Association offers $2000 reward for every bank bandit killed during a bank holdup, or in pursuit following a holdup. Similar rewards have been offered elsewhere, but there is one question as to their legality.
Offering reward for killing men that cannot afford to kill, prove that they were not bank bandits, is delicate.
However, 16 Nebraska banks have been robbed in 16 months, and something must be done.

Today's "naughty gangster murder" deals with a gentleman named "Mushy" Friedman in New Jersey. Two enemy gangsters chased the unfriendly Morris, or "Mushy" Friedman several blocks, as greyhounds chase a hare, and bit him in the back with bullets and slugs.
Poles attribute the incident to "certain business differences."

In Sparks, Michigan, a farmer may take a bushel of wheat to the barber shop, get a good, artistic hair cut, and 27 cents in cash for the bushel. That is only a partial solution of the farm problem, and a thousand bushels of wheat can't have his hair cut a thousand times.

LABOR COMES OUT SOLD FOR BEER TO DUNHAM

Demands Modification Instead of Repeal of Volstead Act to Aid the Jobless

By unanimous vote and without discussion, the American Federation of Labor convention at Hotel Statler today, approved the recommendation of the executive committee for modification of the Volstead act.

This recommendation, in which the resolutions committee concurred, called for modification to permit manufacture, sale and distribution of 2% per cent alcohol for employment relief.

The committee recommended that the repeal of the Volstead Act, in the resolution of Arthur J. Stansbury, of Providence, calling for repeal of the Volstead Act, and it was voted down with only slight discussion.

A similar vote was taken on the cutting for repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, although Edward J. Flynn, president of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, one of its sponsors, spoke in its favor.

He predicted that repeal will come in 2 to 3 years, he said, and he said, in changing and more careful consideration of the repeal of the Volstead Act, and it was voted down with only slight discussion.

The recommendation of the executive committee, concurred in by the resolutions committee and carried by the convention, read in part:

"The American Federation of Labor has repeatedly set forth in several conventions its attitude toward the modification of the Volstead act to promote true temperance. The developments of the last year as shown in the evil social conditions which have followed the repeal of the Volstead act have confirmed the position heretofore taken by the American Federation of Labor in favor of the modification of this act so as to provide for the manufacture, sale and distribution of beverages containing 2% per cent alcohol by weight.

"Nothing that has transpired since this recommendation was made has caused the executive committee to change its opinion or its attitude toward this important social and economic question. It is urged, in the faith and belief of the executive committee that the repeal of the Volstead act is a step toward the relief of the unemployed."

BRACKTON VIGILANTES A MYTH, DIST. ATT. WILBAR BELIEVES

IN VAUNT FOR REPUTED MEMBERS

Prosecutor Decries Need of a Cleanup, but Will Welcome Rum Evidence

Brackton, Oct. 17.—Dist. Atty. Winfield M. Wilbar declared his belief today that the reported organization of local vigilantes does not exist.

Lewis H. Miller.

The district attorney added, however, that any evidence Atty. Miller may have regarding liquor conditions will be welcomed.

Miller, who announced the formation of the vigilantes committee to clean up liquor conditions, said a meeting will be held next week at which time the membership will be made public.

CANT FIND MEMBERS

Dist. Atty. Wilbar, while expressing skepticism regarding the formation of the vigilantes, defended his six years' record and pointed out that he had secured nearly 800 convictions for liquor law violations.

"This far," said the district attorney, "I have been unable to find any prominent business men, lawyers, ministers or clergymen who are supposed to be associated with the vigilantes committee that is reported to have been formed in Brackton."

However, if such a committee has been formed and they have the slightest bit of evidence, I don't care how meagre—that will warrant any investigation of liquor conditions in Brackton or Plymouth County. I will welcome them with open arms.

STILL PROBING MURDER

The Kibbey murder case, which has been referred to, is still under investigation. I have never said the result of rum trafficking in Brackton. The police of Brackton and Plymouth County are working night and day to solve this crime and bring the slayer or slayers to justice."

Miller, attorney-in-charge of the formation of The Vigilantes, denied he was to be organized liquor and vice traffic in the city, and if possible solve recent bootlegging murders.

LIBERAL LEAGUE
THE DRY DEBATE
CHALLENGE

By BERNARD J. DOHERTY

A challenge for a series of debates on the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment has been placed on Post John H. Hall of Harvard and the group identified with him advocating prohibition, by the executive committee of the Liberal Civic League.

In its communication to the press, the league expressed surprise that the Constitutional Liberty League, an organization composed of anti-prohibitionists, had declined an invitation to discuss repeal of the "Biblic Volstead Act" in the principal cities of the state.

Executive committee believes that a series of debates, which would go to the very roots of this question would be of great informative value, particularly at this time when the people of the entire commonwealth are facing a general election in which the prohibition question is the issue of paramount and controlling importance.

While Governor Allen was firing his opening gun in his reelection campaign over Station WREZ last night, his Democratic opponent, Joseph B. Ely, at rallies in Clinton, Fitchburg, and Leominster, was again demanding that the Governor state his position on the 18th Amendment.

WALKER HITS DEVS
Marcus A. Coolidge, Democratic candidate for the senate, and Senator David L. Walker, aligned with Ely in their home state.

Walker continued his attacks upon prohibition and on the unemployment situation. After the rally he left for Washington. Coolidge demanded that William M. Butler, his Republican opponent, explain why he is advocating a dollar law when he appeared before a legislative committee in 1922 in favor of repeal of the prohibition law. Butler, who is a lawyer, and whose career as legislator and lobbyist he consistently opposed all measures in the interest of labor.

"It seems strange to me that a man whose whole record in public life has been opposed to the welfare of the working people should suddenly become so intensely interested in measures for their benefit," he declared.

'NO WAR NEAR'; LLOYD GEORGE

Torquay, Devonshire, Eng., Oct. 17 (AP)—David Lloyd George, leader of the Liberal party and wartime premier of Great Britain, today told his party's national conference that England's armaments bill of £110,000,000 "ought to be cut down ruthlessly on the assumption that nations are not going to war—at any rate in this generation."

The little Welshman, sarcastic as ever, but more guarded, also said that as a measure of restoring Britain's economic balance and ending unemployment, duties should be abolished, work supplied to the idle and "we ought to revise our trade facilities and export credits and seek trade with Russia."

Lloyd George urged establishment of a committee to go through the finances of all government departments, with a view to reviving their figures downward.

"It is not a scandal that ten years after the created war in world history—the war to end wars—that this year our armaments bill is £110,000,000," he said.

CURLEY WILL URGE NATIONAL INDUSTRIAL BOARD UPON HOOVER

MAYOR PLAYS RELIEF FOR JOBLESS

Governor's Conference May Speed Up State Development Plan to Give Employment

Establishment of a permanent industrial planning board, which would sit throughout the year and report to Congress, will be advocated by Mayor Curley at his meeting with President Hoover at the White House next Thursday.

While the unemployment situation is the major part of his discussion, the mayor will also discuss the matter of transferring Governor Island to the city.

Plans for the extension of the Boston airport in the island will be shown to the President together with a plan for reclamation of the land of a great assembly hall and a new night club.

The mayor will be accompanied on a trip to Washington by the daughter, Miss Curley, and they will be guests of the Italian ambassador, Noble Gaetano de Martino, at the embassy Thursday evening.

Porter H. Adams, president of the Boston Air Board, was notified by the mayor of his acceptance of an invitation to a luncheon at the Commodore Club in Washington Thursday.

Meanwhile, to speed up employment relief, Governor Allen will be asked to confer with Mayor Curley to study the public improvement in the city instead of waiting six months for necessary state legislation.

This request was made by the group of educators called together by Mayor Curley to study the employment who met at the Fidelity House yesterday.

Suggestion that Governor Allen be called in was made by Prof. Sarah Landau, head of the economic department of Western College.

She criticized the delay caused by official red tape in starting public improvement.

She indicated Mayor Curley's plan for a federal industrial planning board, stating that one of its duties should be to provide employment "insurance or assurance."

EPISCOPALIAN 'APATHY' HIT

"Failure of the Episcopal Church in its appeal to youth has resulted in parish walls being filled with half-hearted churchmen," delegates to the 25th annual convention of the National Federation of Church Clubs an Episcopal group, were told today.

Prof. Paul Busch of St. Paul University, Tokyo, Japan, was the speaker at the first business session of the 25th annual convention of the National Federation of Church Clubs an Episcopal group, were told today.

He called upon Episcopalians to provide "little, forward looking and sympathetic spiritual leadership."

"The church is threatened with spiritual sterility," he declared.

About 100 delegates received communion at Trinity Church and breakfasted at the University Club.

As many again are expected to depart for tomorrow's closing session of the convention, which opened last night with an informal meeting at the Harvard Club.

A HIGHLY IMPORTANT FOSSIL DEPOSIT HAS ARRIVED FROM HARVARD UNIVERSITY.

Jamm Miller, left, and W. E. Schevill, both attached to Harvard's geology department, are at work unpacking the fossils.

Camels Lived in Wyoming, Harvard Fossils Show

One of the most important fossil bone finds done by members of the museum and students of geology and zoology at Harvard.

The following description of the Harvard party's experience during the trip was taken by Prof. Schaller.

"Shortly after our arrival at Torrington, Wyoming, our party immediately set out and established a base camp four miles west of Torrington. Our first job was making two excavations into the bed of the river. This required considerable manual labor. With the temperature between 100 and 110 degrees the work was not so enjoyable.

"About 10 feet below surface we began to strike the bones. Then began the work of collecting them and keeping in the same form in which they were embedded in the rock and lime. After the task of packing and shipping several thousand pounds of fossil material had been completed we began to make other explorations.

"These side trips brought us through 14th, Colorado, Texas and New Mexico. While in Colorado we spent a few days near the town of Canon, about 50 miles from the nearest accessible dwelling, and began work in the lower Chardun formation. Our expedition in this region was as fortunate as it had been throughout the summer.

"The material that was found by the expedition during the summer trip will be on exhibition in the University Museum within a short time.

"The work of removing the plaster of Paris that encases the fossils is now being done here. (Staff photo.)

EVERETT FIRE NEW FACTORIES

A feature of Everett fire department parade today with a band led by six veterans of the department in the old type uniforms.

Three "good laws" announcements indicating improvement in industrial and building conditions were made today by William Chamber of Commerce.

The Illinois Wire & Metal Manufacturing Co. of Joliet, Ill., will begin construction of its only new English factory in an area leased from the Boston & Maine railroad near the Everett station. It will produce 9000 feet of fencing a day.

The second was that the Everett Mills, Inc., has located on Upper Newton st., and the third that the Everett College of Medicine and Surgery, first of a group of educational institutions, has been completed in the 100-acre plot on South Main st.

Today, in the real estate market, the Everett Mills will find a new use of up to date and available acreage.

Three new pieces of apparatus recently purchased by Everett were on the parade and were on exhibition afterward at the Central fire house.

For TEETHING troubles

Fussy, fretful, colic, and other troubles are uncomfortable at teething time! And mothers are worried because of the little upsets which come so suddenly then. But there is one sure way to comfort a restless, teething child. Castoria is the formula on which mother relies. Yet it rights him with a few drops of oil.

It's perfectly harmless, as the formula on which mother relies. Yet it rights him with a few drops of oil.

COURT STOPS MORE AGAINST TERCENTENARY BALL TONIGHT

LOCAL 9, OF MUSICIANS ENJOINED

Charged With Threatening 50 Hired to Play for Costume Dance in Garden

An attempt to disrupt plans for the Tercentenary Costume Ball at Boston Garden tonight was foiled by quick action today when Judge Louis Cox restrained the Boston Musicians' Protective Association, Local 9, from interfering with 50 musicians hired to furnish the music.

The musicians hired were ordered this morning that they must break their contract or suffer dire consequences to themselves, according to the bail in equity brought by Russell Colman, Jr., Thomas A. Mullen and John P. Scully of the ball committee.

Local 9 is restrained from interfering with, molesting, threatening or coercing the musicians to refuse to fill their contract.

According to the petitioners, $12,000 worth of tickets have been sold for the ball.

The trouble, according to the petitioners, from the Boston Garden, being illegally placed on the blacklist by two other unions, Local 305, Musicians, and Local 11, Theatrical Stage Employees and Moving Picture Operators' Union, which are in controversy as to which shall have jurisdiction to operate the spotlight at the Garden.

Mayor Curley this afternoon turned over his tickets for the ball to the officials of the town of Weymouth, which is holding its own Tercentenary celebration this year with the mayor of Weymouth, Mr. E. A. Bennett, guest.

He announced at the same time that several West Point officers had accepted invitations to appear at the ball and would arrive in Boston this evening ahead of schedule for the Harvard-Army game.

Albert Gifford, 21, of 255 Washington st., South End, straggled into the Pemberton apartment corridor today, singled out by Patrolmen John Gony and P. R. Donovan, and told them he was the assailant of William Johnson, restaurant employee at Washington st., on the morning of Oct. 11, for which his friend was jailed.

A warrant was procured and Gifford pleaded guilty before Judge Dwyer. He was remanded to Charles st. jail to await a hearing Monday.

1700 West Point Cadets to Stage Review on Common

Historic Boston Common will once more serve as a setting for a review of West Point Cadets tomorrow as a result of the efforts of Mayor James M. Curley.

Through arrangements made with Maj.-Gen. William R. Smith, superintendent of the military academy, the gray-clad cadets will repeat their evolutions of last year, and the public is again invited to attend.

The city of Boston is highly honored by the review of the corps of cadets of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, New York, upon the parade ground of Boston Common, on Saturday morning, October 18, at 9:30.

Major Curley said in a statement today.

No event of my administration has given me greater pleasure than to successfully arrange with Maj.-Gen. William R. Smith, superintendent of the United States Military Academy at West Point, for the appearance of the cadets upon historic Boston Common.

"They represent the greatest military school of the world today, and I sincerely trust the citizens of Boston will assemble for a review, and pay a young tribute to these brilliant youths whose practical training is providing for the future leaders of the nation."

They will form in the ranks and march by way of Huntington as they will meet Harvard at the Stadium in the year of the Tercentenary celebration, 1830-1930.

After the review some of the cadets will be permitted to have luncheon with visitors and friends while the majority will go to Cambridge to meet Harvard at the Harvard Union. Immediately after the game they will be marched back to the Huntington area by way of North Harvard st. and will reassemble for the return trip to West Point.

FALSE ALARMS JAIL TWO

A false alarm complex and a keyless police officers' house at Richard Street of Salem and Mrs. R. F. Faine of Weymouth into Lynn police station today.

It all started in an instance of false alarm in Danvers, Mass., where a fire alarm was sent out by a woman who was described as a cream-colored roadster.

Patrolman Thomas Grady noticed the wanted car, and reported he witnessed an alarm pulled. Three of his shots failed to halt the fleeing car.

A few hours later Grady changed his opinion and left his house to find two young men struggling with a full face on a cream-colored roadster.

When they shot a hole in the tire, first thing you know they'll turn around.

"Wait a minute," said Grady. "You got a blowout patch in the house."

"Good fellow," thought the two, but a changing patrol wagon changed their opinions.

GIFT TO CURLEY HERE IN PEEVE

Montreal's gift to Boston arrived at the North Station early today to kick up quite a rumpus.

"Centennial," a seven-month-old kangaroo presented by Mayor Camille Houde of Montreal to Mayor Curley through C. E. P. Pringle, general agent of the Canadian National Railway, that afternoon, was giving vent to his wrath at being confined in a much smaller home than he was over in before. It was a crate with a chicken wire over the top, stopping about inside, "Centennial" seemed ill now, which made him snarl and hiss at the people who were to take him to the Franklin Park zoo.

Boston possibly will escape this hard new day in the Middle West, but winter weather is on the way.

The western storm is moving eastward but is expected to reach the city, except for a few days of clearing, with cold weather tomorrow for the first time.

Partly cloudy tonight and Saturday, probably snow showers, Sunday colder.

SERVICE STATIONS of COLONIAL BEACON OIL COMPANY are now POSTAL TELEGRAPH OFFICES

POSTAL TELEGRAPH again leads in giving the public another new service. Service stations of the Colonial Beacon Oil Company are now also Postal Telegraph offices. In other parts of the country similar arrangements have been made with other Standard Oil Companies.

Thus the millions of people who ride in the 26,500,000 automobiles and trucks over the 700,000 miles of improved roads in this country have available proper communication facilities.

Now... the truck fleet can report to headquarters easily... without delay... the traveler can call of a safe arrival, or re-rooms at a hotel a day's drive ahead without leaving the steering wheel... the hundreds of thousands of passengers in busses are offered the same communication services as the railway passenger... the salesman covering his territory by automobile is in constant contact with his prospect list and home office.

Now... around the corner from your home, or at thousands of convenient stops along your road, world-wide communication at Postal Telegraph speed is available without leaving your car. Simply ask the attendant for a Postal Telegraph blank and the far corners of the earth are brought to your steering wheel.

Postal Telegraph service—certain—economical—world-wide—parallels the road maps of the United States.

Highway communication is another great step in the expansion program of the International System—the only American telegraph company offering world-wide coordinated radio communications—telegraph—radio—cable—radio.

Big Ole Was Afraid He'd "Ban Git Mad"

"From all ye gillnet Shanty Lads 'n' livers, while I sing, We've worked months in cruel frosts an' now we'll take our fling,
The ice is black, and rotten, an' the railroads are piled high,
So bust upon your great sticks, while ye tell your boys,
Oh, break the railroads out, my lads, and let the big sticks slide
File your cutlery an' grease your boots an' the river we will ride,
For a hundred miles of water is the nearest way to town,
So let us take the rail of 'er an' leave her bustlin' down."
(Chorus)

When the drive comes down! When the drive comes down!
Ye then we get our money, lads, so then we owe the town!
Oh, the gutters run with whiskey, when the Shanty Boys are frisky,
Stick their boot heels, in the sidewalks, when the drive comes down!"

Don't be offended, Ma. It's only "Here's to good old Yale, drink her down," with a back on. It is a college song, champion of the students of one of the Colleges of Hard Knocks, the great North Woods. In reality it was a sort of a Maine Song of the days when Maine pine was logged and carried to every corner of the world.

It came back to me last night, when we were watching that wrestler

bulled as "Jack Russell, the Maine Lumberjack"—we doubt if he knows the difference between a cant hook and a peavy, ever heard the wail of a woods fiddle, the crowscut saw, ever rasted pine butts, headed skidways or rode river along with the timber, perhaps a little vain of lumberjacks and sport might interest you and relieve the monotony of the leads and leads of football stuff the sportspages are crowded with.

You see, it always has been a mystery to us, who once rasted logs and rode river ourselves and know what a "crowscut" the Big Woods "crowscut" why more lumberjacks are house sports than they are particularly ring them to us.

As far as we can recollect there were only two, George Lavigne, the Saginaw Kid, who came out of the Michigan woods and worked in a sawmill in Saginaw during his early career, and Paulino, the Basque Woodchopper. Paulino came from the cork forests atop the Pyrenees, but the woods of the U. S. A. or Canada.

Of course, a flock of our champions were products of the wide open spaces. Jim Jeffries was known as the Boilemaker, but he only worked a few months in a boiler factory. Practically all the early life of Paulino was spent on his father's ranch in the Arroyo Seco Canyon. Jeff was only 11 years old when he killed his first deer.

Hunting, fishing, tramping, camping in those California hills was what gave Jeff his remarkable stamina and endurance.

WIDE OPEN SPACES

Jack Dempsey was a hobo. But he wasn't a linaing hobo. Wanderlust took him by bracke-wander and blind baggage, over many sections of the West, but only between jobs. The realists know, which still gets him, kept him on the move, but he worked hard in the harvest fields, the mines and the woods. Willard, rancher, horse trader, wood grower, was the product of the wide open spaces, where men are men and wildcats are wild.

But why haven't more famous fighting men come from the lumber camps? Two champions, as we mentioned, Kid Lavigne, the toughest lightweight we have ever seen or hope to see, and Paulino, who if he had come in the old 25-round, 45-round and flash fight days, certainly would have been heavyweight champion of the world, were lumberjacks. Why didn't the squared circle see more of the Shanty Boys? There is no trace, no avocation which rounds a man physically like lumbering. Sasse Strongly Reinforced With Capable Replacements. Only a glance at the present Army squad is necessary to see that the team is in excellent condition for the game.

In an actual ring contest it would have been a different matter. We never get a lumberjack who knew the rudiments of ring lore. But in a rough and tumble—Ole, Boy!

DISPENSIBLE GRIZZLY

BANTAM GOLF

JOE CASHMAN

Those new "just like grass" synthetic greens on the Glanville Course, just off Harvard ave., near Commonwealth, in Allston, are the talk of the town. They look like real turf, feel like real turf and underfoot and the ball acts just as it does on the finest kept putting greens.

The rain of the past two days has been the indoor bantam game considerably and smiles have replaced frowns on the faces of the players. Nobody was more anxious for the wet spell than the indoor boys, who were having to wait for the weather to clear so they could go out and play.

Indoor courses can be found at almost every place, but they are not as good as the outdoor ones. The indoor places did not spring the game, but they have helped to keep it alive. They have helped to keep it alive by giving the players a chance to play when the weather is bad. They have helped to keep it alive by giving the players a chance to play when the weather is bad.

Boston College Picked to Beat Villanova Tomorrow

LOCAL BOYS ON 'EVEN ELEVEN

STAR EAGLE BACK

Boston College will enter its game with Harry Stuhldreher's Villanova eleven at Philadelphia tomorrow a favorite to win by at least two touchdowns.

Although J. McKenney was freshly disappointed by the 20 victory of Fordham over his team, he believes that the Eagles were benefited even by the defeat and a reversal. That is, the victory over the Mainlanders by a comfortable margin.

There is no more that he considers the Philadelphia team is better, by any means. Joe McKenney perhaps even better than anyone else just how strong the Mainlanders are. They are coached by Harry Stuhldreher, one of the best basketball players that ever played in the National Basketball League. Last year Stuhldreher developed a team that gave Boston a hard battle and B. C. was lucky to get an even score.

This fall, the Mainlanders' record is not quite as impressive having met defeat at the hands of Georgetown and New York University. But Joe McKenney who saw the Mainlanders in action feels that they are a team to be feared and is going to take no chances with them.

Villanova Has Large Squad of Huskies

There are few teams in the country that boast of bigger or stronger football players than the Villanova team. There are at least 22 players on the squad who stand over six feet in height and weigh in the vicinity of 200 pounds apiece.

It would appear that the players will enter their first college game giving an advantage in weight to their opponents.

In the Marine game the service men lowered over the Boston boys and the Fordham eleven had an average of almost 22 pounds apiece. The game of the Villanova team is Dala Sheehan, a college boy who stands six feet four and weighs 200 pounds.

Fred Dinwiddie, another Greater New York boy, who hails from Salem, has just matched his team mate in weight and height.

It is believed that he formerly tried for the Somerville high school when Somerville was the champion of the Suburban League.

Lately to join the game since the Maroon and Gold. Peter, one of the best freshmen fullbacks they have had in years at Pennsylvania college.

Peter is a promising punter and with Harry Greaser still nursing his injury he may be shifted to halfback for Saturday's game.

Stuhldreher Loses Only Veteran Back

Villanova's backfield was shot to pieces by graduation last June and Stuhldreher was faced with the task this fall of finding three dependable carriers to team up with Morgan, who was the only veteran left from last year. His decision was increased last week when Tom Morgan broke his leg in a football game and it was not to be in uniform again this fall.

On the other hand, McKenney has his whole squad in fair shape for the first time this fall. Capt. Johnny Jones is back in the game greatly benefited by the work he received against the Rams. They did not look so good against the Fordham team, but that was because he was still bothered by an ailing shoulder. Although he is not completely recovered he will start. But if the Eagles get ahead, McKenney will withdraw him from danger.

Entire Wesleyan Squad Now in Shape

Wesleyan, Ct. Oct. 17.—With Dick Means back at guard, the Wesleyan variety lineup was intact for the first time since the beginning of the infantile paralysis scare.

In spite of setbacks, Jim Oberlander is whipping into shape a smoothly working but light machine which should give Rochester some hard going tomorrow.

The coaches have been ironing out the mistakes noted in the Coe game and Coach Jones said Blackburn talks to impress his points.

Amherst Stresses Passing Attack

Amherst, Oct. 17.—A long season was held in the Amherst College football camp as Coach Al Wheeler put his charges through a workout on Worcester Tech plays and formations in preparation for the game tomorrow.

Latent passes have been stressed in each of the daily workouts this season.

Either Bill Kirk, 160-pound tackle, or Sandy MacCall, veteran guard, may be transferred from a regular berth to start the game at center in place of Ham Moore, and string pivot man is still suffering from a chafed nose in the signal drill which closed practice.

CHESY ANTOS, star Boston College halfback, who is expected to batter his way through the Villanova line tomorrow.

Punts and Fumbles

By BILL GRIMES

In all probability Capt. "Biff" Jones, former head coach, will return to West Point next year. At present, Capt. Jones is at the artillery school at Fort Sill, Okla. If the present plans materialize, Capt. Jones will be graduate manager at West Point in 1931.

The Army squad is quartered at the Belmont Spring Country Club, West Point next fall. The Crimson Country Club is the old J. P. Morgan estate and is located just below West Point.

Eddie Clark was at the West Point station when the Army squad pulled in last night and accompanied Maj. Ralph Basse to Belmont. Later Arnold Horvath and Vin Leonard paid their respects to the Army and fanned football until almost midnight.

Harvard will try to arrange for its squad at the G. J. Jones Country Club, where the Crimson Varsity West Point next fall. The Crimson Country Club is the old J. P. Morgan estate and is located just below West Point.

Charlie Bore, Army and coach, has developed three sets of football men from the Crimson Varsity. Carl Calmar and Ed Manning have the call, but they have been closely pressed by Paul Burlingame, Jack Mallory, George Fletcher and Dick King. Mallory is five years faster than any other end, and will be plenty of action against Harvard.

The place coaches will scout for on Saturday and then, where a conference will be held at the University Club, with Head Coach Basse and his assistants.

Malcolm Bancroft is the latest Harvard casualty. Now he was hurt in a mystery auto to Bancroft, who was apparently perfectly O. K. when he left the Dillon Field House on Wednesday, but came up lame yesterday morning.

With the exception of Charlie Bore and George Tibbels, there is a possibility of every other player on the variety squad being ready for the Army game. Just how long some of the boys who have not had any contact work will be able to stand the heavy going is problematical.

Each Mackman Awarded $5038 as Series Share

Chicago, Oct. 17 (U.S.—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis made public today official figures on the distribution of the World Series and Chicago city series money among the clubs and players.

The players received 60 per cent of the receipts of the first four games both in the World Series and in the city series, after 10 per cent had been deducted for the commissioner's office in each case.

The world champion Athletics players received $20,046 each for their share, and their opponents, the St. Louis Cardinals, $20,047 each.

The Cubs, runners up in the National League race, received $27,751 from the World Series as second place team in the series. (This with the $12,071 for winning the city series, gave each Cub player a total of $39,822.)

The Chicago White Sox players received $17,935 each as their share of the city series.

McLEAN AFTER JIM MALONEY

Alce McLean, matchmaker of the Boston Garden, will show three local boys in two six-rounders which will precede the three main events at the Boston Garden next Thursday night.

McLean will oppose Johnny McLean, who is now in the hospital with a broken leg, and Russell Kellouso, a Chinese, battles Victor Lotti of China.

The East Boston in the second event and in the opening act, Jack Casper of East Boston will oppose Johnny McLean, who is now in the hospital with a broken leg, and Russell Kellouso, a Chinese, battles Victor Lotti of China.

McLean is concentrating all his efforts toward signing Jim Maloney to box the winner of the Danes-Rusko bout. If the proposed result between the South Boston strong boy and Primo Carners falls through.

Strong Terrier Eleven to Face Middlebury Subs

Boston University should encounter little difficulty in keeping its undefeated home record when it clashes with the crippled Middlebury eleven at the William E. Nickerson Recreational Field, Weston, tomorrow.

Benny Beck, former Medford high school coach, who is now directing the Green Mountain boys, will be forced to use a substitute team tomorrow.

Ricco, Beck's veteran guard, is in the hospital with a broken leg and MacLean, variety tackle, is hobbling about on crutches. The backfield is also badly shot with Bullockian out with a bad leg and Zerk suffering from an attack of appendicitis.

The loss of these men together with several other members of the squad, suffering from ailments, will show Beck's outfit to show very little.

The Terriers, however, will be much stronger tomorrow than they were against Dartmouth. The only Boston University regular who will watch the game from the sidelines is Phil Stoddard who is still limping because of a torn ligament.

Psychology of Liar Sought by Reader

Editor Boston American: Will your readers explain the psychology of the man who lies without a qualm, but if you ask him why he lies, he will tell you with a revolutionary countenance. This happens often in Boston.

Favors Duke System to Aid Jobless

Editor Boston American: In recitals to hard times and the depression, why doesn't the U. S. government loosen up on the strings of its pocketbook and help the World War veterans? Those in Washington must say that the money would find its way to the unemployed, in a case of that sort it could be very easily remedied. Bank presidents could be distributors in case of need or the government could use the plan that was used in the case of the World War veterans.

The Duke system is used in other countries, why not the same here? Give it to him now, not when he is dead. Perhaps the government wants the veterans to be like the Irishman who stipulated to his will that $500 be given to each of the publicans and that they spend it on his way back from the grave as he would not be with them then. The same thing will happen to the veterans if we keep having the red tape in Washington.

One can easily see how Mayor James Curley's idea of spending $25 for things we need could boom business for the business man, also start the factor going and give everyone work and put this country back on its feet once again.

What we need in this country is a man like Mayor Curley. If the U. S. government can talk to and get results.

Prison Terms Urged for Liquor Peddlers

Editor Boston American: We are not sure if you ever heard of liquor peddlers. They are men who go around with a gun and a bottle of liquor, and sell it to anyone who wants it. They are a menace to the community, and should be put in prison for a long time. They are a menace to the community, and should be put in prison for a long time. They are a menace to the community, and should be put in prison for a long time.

Legion Stand on Vet's Compensation Rapped

Editor Boston American: The American Legion is a membership in 1930 of 800,000. When the Victory Medal was issued by the government it was awarded to over 4,000,000 veterans. The above is proof that the American Legion does not represent the veterans. I am heartily opposed to the action taken by the national convention of the American Legion on the resolution for payment of 50 per cent of the amount of the adjusted compensation certificate. This organization has at last told the truth as to the action which it has planned in 1931. I question their right to pretend to the supporters of this bill that they would not try to have this paid before the stipulated time. They claim that they are against introducing politics, yet they allow the statement to be published that it is

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

Editor Boston American:

It is true that young people of today are better physical specimens than their fathers and mothers.

That is what the president of Yale said a few months or more ago. But we are not sure of their morals. They may not be as good as their fathers, but they are at times inactive. There is too much moral inertia. But this does not mean that they are not conscious of morality. They are not working it enough in the affairs of life.

They are ruled more by their minds than by their feelings. This is an excellent guidance in many ways. It will make them think more of the current of life rather than the froth. This nation needs more creative thinking.

Young people can be of more service here than the older generation. They have no cobwebs in their minds. It is too early for them to spin any webs.

I have great hopes of the younger generation and do not add to those who in public designate them as "wild and unsettled." Give them a free reign and they never will bang themselves.

MORRIS H. HAVELAND.

resolution was a direct slap at the Republican party.

When the veterans going to have backbones enough to demand what belongs to them now instead of waiting until 1944. In 1924 when cash payment was asked, the statement was made that the veterans were not capable enough to handle so much money. They claimed that the veterans would squander it. The real reason these statements were made was because if a cash payment was made, it would affect the rich in the increase of income taxes. During the war people who supplied munition factories were paid a bonus at the end of each week. At the end of the war thousands were paid $500,000,000 for losses incurred under war administration. The civilian employees were paid $200,000,000 for adjustment of compensation. Mine owners were paid $400,000,000 to compensate for losses incurred in merely getting ready to produce munitions for chemical warfare, but without actually producing them. Millions were voted for the relief of shipping board contractors. These and other compensations were made while those who offered their country, and their property, had their youth and their lives sacrificed in a period of unemployment and general depression to regain their present status. The amounts mentioned above were not spread over a period of 20 years, but were paid at once.

A DISABLED VETERAN.

Party Baiting Habit Showing Big Increase

Editor Boston American:

Last week a Boston paper published an editorial captioned "Baiting the Party." The baiting of political candidates has attained tremendous proportions all over the country. It has developed into a national pastime. Numerically, baiting outposts politics. Party affiliations are thrown in the discard and no longer count with multitudes of voters. Here is the result of a personal poll taken by the writer on the 14th inst. in a city not far from Boston. Baiting merchants, all Republicans, all of whom voted for Eben R. Dwyer in the primary.

At any rate the morale of the farm women is not broken, as evidenced in the following report published in the ever helpful Lamsar, Mo. Democrat.

On Thursday afternoon the Barton County farm women spent a very enjoyable time at Camp Park. Mrs. Ayers of the Central Club led in a number of pep songs.

After the pep songs were over the women of Barton County had composed in honor of the W. P. F. A.

We are thankful for the Autumn, And its glorious, peaceful days, We are thankful for the farm club And the W. P. F. A.

We are thankful for the hours That we spend from day to day To better our community, And the W. P. F. A.

That we extend to one another Our courtesies, our love, We are thankful for each member Of the W. P. F. A.

If it wasn't for the farm club We wouldn't have a thing to thank To the W. P. F. A.

OUR PLANT No. 8156 After a good deal of trouble, as usual, our Troopers Department, Bldg. 3306, Section G, Desk XIV, has turned up, flanked with pride and pleasure, to announce the discovery, development and invention of something very new and startling. Just a simple little four-page book, to be sure, but these four-page books are probably around and can be used in movie theaters to tell more love of the drama.

Next to which, who wonder, under one's other and make catcalls during a picture's most and beautiful scenes will now have to look out. For if they don't look out, the dramatic-loving users will just turn a few Progress Era-Plus Books and their book nicely shy, it is alleged by authorities.
